My most distant memory, huh?

sadly it's not the sea

But a very blue sky and fleecy clouds

There was no sea with the color of the wine

But a gray sky and a cold wind

these roses

Are like him

on the other side of the railway track

fell a raven feather

I looked up with an air of resentment towards this bird

Here is the dream

that I have again and again

God, are you...

....a liar?

I do not know where my parents are gone
— my sister is lost
Such an unfortunate
We watched over me
But is this child got scared?
God, it does not matter if you lied to me
Please, watch over my sister in replacement of me
Doing she do not get cold
Doing she are not injured
Doing she do not lose their faith until the end

I wonder what was that dream?
I can't remember my most distant past
These pieces of happy memories are, today,
Make me suffer
Why do people
Do not understand what to do when they are on the verge of being apart
They know nothing else than saying goodbye
You are heartless, god

Here is the dream that I had this morning

I had wings on the back

They were big and white

Aah... I finally recovered my strength

Father, mother, sister, friends

We were back together, holding hands

The world recovered its light

Wings circled in white and sparkling light

You flew to your origin place

I beg you, let me kiss your feet

When I woke up on this cold pillow

A tear roll down on my cheek

I let this tear on my cheek
And I prayed to god
Please do not steal my memories
I witnessed a strange scene
The flesh and blood were stacked
It was my friends
If hell existed
So it was at this place
The stench of the bird with the black feather then started to float in the air

The white bird meanwhile had disappeared

The black bird then said
"You're next on the list"

I saw my sister get up this morning

She wore a single white wing on her back so resplendent that she was breathtaking

while her light was spreading over my white cheeks, she told me

"You will recover your freedom soon"

"You must wait a little longer"

"I did not arrived in time
But you're gonna live. You're going to leave this place. "

"Then I beg you, be a little patient"

Wait! do could you give me white wings like yours?

"But you already have them! "

Where?

"Deep in your heart"
